

Liathach Traverse

Saturday 1st June 2019

Without doubt a contender for one of the finest mountains in Scotland, Liathach 1055m stands proud above Torridon, managing to look both beautiful and impregnable at the same time! Fortunately it is easier than it looks, allowing us to make a fantastic scrambling journey along the ridge, and visit both Munro summits. The scrambling is never too hard (Grade 2), but with lots of exposure. We would expect to wear helmets and harnesses for the scrambling sections of the day, with a rope being used as necessary depending upon individual progress and weather/conditions.

Itinerary

Saturday 1st June 2019

Meet in Inverness 07:30, travel to Torridon. Traverse Liathach and return to Inverness early evening

Your Guide

Jonty Mills, local Mountaineering Instructor (MIA) & Full Member, Association of Mountaineering Instructors. To lead clients on graded scrambles and rock climbs in the UK a guide should either be a full Member of the Association of Mountaineering Instructors (AMI) or the British Mountain Guides (BMG)—your sign of quality and professionalism. Don't accept anything less!

Experience needed

You should have some experience of UK mountain walking, and done some basic Grade 1 scrambling (or have a good head for heights!). No technical climbing experience is required. You should be fit enough for an 8-hour Scottish hill day incorporating two Munros.

For an explanation of UK Scrambling grades see our website

Cost/Booking

£ 95 per person.

Two spaces per guide. I run this day on a 1:2 ratio, which ensures maximum safety and attention for you.

Includes return transport from Inverness (if wanted), a day's professional guiding and use of any technical equipment required e.g. harness, rope, helmet
