

Stac Pollaidh for Connoisseurs

Sunday 28th April 2019

Stac Pollaidh, in the far NW Highlands, is a fantastic little mountain. Despite being only 613m high, it has more character than many a higher peak. All routes to the top involve some degree of scrambling, and the views of loch, sea and mountain are just reward. On this day we plan to avoid the “tourist” route and do full justice to the mountain, with a longer complete traverse of the ridge. This also allows us to visit the true summit, which many people don’t reach. This involves Grade 2/3 scrambling, and plenty of exposure, but your guide will keep you safe and secure, using a rope where necessary.

The view North from the summit

Itinerary

Sunday 28th April 2019

Meet in Inverness at 08:15(location TBC), travel by road to Stac Pollaidh (allow 2 hrs). Ascend and traverse Stac Pollaidh and return to Inverness by early evening

Your Guide

Jonty Mills, local Mountaineering Instructor (MIA) & Full Member, Association of Mountaineering Instructors. To lead clients on graded scrambles and rock climbs in the UK a guide should either be a full Member of the Association of Mountaineering Instructors (AMI) or the British Mountain Guides (BMG)—your sign of quality and professionalism. Don't accept anything less!

Experience needed

You should have some experience of UK mountain walking, and done some basic Grade 1 scrambling (or have a good head for heights!). No technical climbing experience is required. You should be fit enough for a 6 hour day on the hill, but well-constructed paths speed us in and out of the scrambling with relative ease so this is not a “big” day by Scottish standards.

For an explanation of UK Scrambling grades see our website

Cost/Booking

£ 90 per person.

Two spaces per guide. I run this day on a 1:2 ratio, which ensures maximum safety and attention for you.

Includes return transport from Inverness (if wanted), a day's professional guiding and use of any technical equipment required e.g. harness, rope, helmet

A general summer kit list is available on our website www.onhighhills.com

For enquiries please contact me on jonty@onhighhills.com

A booking form is available on our website by clicking here

Dates don't suit? Get in touch to discuss a private trip.

